

SOUL ON FIRE

A Limited Series for Premium Cable Television

Genre: Musical Drama / Period Piece

Format: 6 x 1-Hour Episodes

Setting: Atlanta, Georgia (1971–1979)

Created by: Kelly R. Tenney

Status: Scripted Limited Series – Seeking Packaging / Network Partnership

LOGLINE

In 1970s Atlanta, a gifted Black soul singer fights to reclaim her voice, her music, and her legacy from an industry designed to exploit her talent, silence her truth, and bury her name, even if it costs her everything.

SERIES SNAPSHOT

Soul on Fire is a prestige limited series set against the vibrant rise of soul and funk music in the American South. Told through the journey of Lena Maye Johnson, a gospel-trained singer-turned-superstar who is betrayed by the very machine that launched her, this is not just a tale of fame and downfall, but a blistering indictment of cultural theft, systemic erasure, and the exploitation of Black creativity in the music industry.

Each episode fuses grounded historical drama with stylized musical performances, ancestral commentary, and surreal visual poetry. Inspired by Watchmen, Atlanta, and The Deuce, the series blends intimate character storytelling with broader socio-political critique.

WHY NOW

As artists across industries fight to reclaim their rights, Soul on Fire exposes the long, unfinished legacy of exploitation in American entertainment. At a time when networks are seeking bold, music-driven, culturally resonant storytelling, this series offers award-worthy performances, a viral original soundtrack, and the potential to become a franchise-defining title.

CORE THEMES

- Cultural Theft & Ownership
- Artistic Integrity vs. Survival
- Systemic Racism in Entertainment

- Legacy, Voice, and Redemption
-

MUSIC THAT MOVES THE CULTURE

Original soul, funk, and gospel-inspired tracks, including “Burnin’ Low,” “Love Ain’t a Loan,” and “Who’s Gonna Sing for Me?” A power the series. Songs are woven into character arcs, with music functioning as spiritual, emotional, and political storytelling.

REPRESENTATION & PARTNERSHIPS

The project will collaborate with Atlanta cultural institutions (e.g. APEX Museum, Spelman College), music historians, and civil rights advocates to ensure authenticity and impact.

FRANCHISE POTENTIAL

Like American Crime Story, each future season explores a new city and genre, from Motown in Detroit to blues in Chicago to jazz in New Orleans, expanding the lens on Black musical brilliance and systemic theft.

Contact: Kelly R. Tenney / NCCAENTERTAINMENT@gmail.com / NCCAENTERTAINMENT.COM

Deck & Script Available Upon Request
