

FLIP SIDE OF LOVE

When love survives the edits.

LOGLINE

When ambitious reality producer Kendra Blake is unexpectedly paired with her ex-boyfriend Dez, a calm, principled contractor to renovate a historic Atlanta home, old sparks fly as hidden Black history, unresolved feelings, and network interference threaten to flip more than just the house.

TONE

Heartfelt, witty, romantic, and grounded. Think: soulful Southern ambiance meets renovation realism, with emotional payoff and sharp, character driven humor.

THEME

- Second chances, in love and legacy
 - Black cultural memory and erasure
 - Ownership of narrative vs. reality TV manipulation
 - What we choose to restore, in homes, in relationships, in self
-

PITCH

Flip Side of Love blends the character intimacy of a romance drama with the structural hook of a home renovation show. It's a grounded, modern Black love story wrapped in cultural preservation, ripe for the streaming age. With market tested elements like exes forced to work together, heritage real estate, and buried secrets, it offers both emotional catharsis and network, brandable uplift. This is a feel everything, fix everything journey with high visual appeal, community heart, and real staying power.

DETAILED SYNOPSIS

Kendra Blake is a rising television producer returning to Atlanta to prove herself by revamping a historic West End home for a reality renovation pilot. But her plans get derailed when the network hires Dez Carter, her ex and the man who broke her heart, as the general contractor. Sparks fly, tensions rise, and the show's glossy premise is flipped when the pair uncovers a crate of blueprints, letters, and photos tied to Solomon Minor, an uncredited Black architect and civil rights era community builder. As Kendra and Dez restore the home, they must also confront their past, battle network pressure to sensationalize the story, and choose whether they're building a house or rebuilding something deeper.

OUTLINE

Act I: Kendra arrives in Atlanta, discovers Dez is her contractor. Sparks and sabotage.

Act II: Renovation chaos ensues. They uncover a crate revealing the home's hidden Black history. Emotional wounds resurface.

Act III: The network wants to exploit the story. Kendra pushes back. Dez takes a stand. They restore the reading nook as a tribute.

Finale: The house is complete. The story is honored. Kendra and Dez, tentative but real, choose to stay. Together.

CHARACTER BREAKDOWN

Kendra Blake (34): Ambitious, emotionally guarded TV producer. Style forward, sharp-tongued, deeply principled.

Dez Carter (35): Quiet, grounded, poetic builder. A man of few words but steady actions. Stoic with a soft interior.

Marissa James (30s): Kendra's ride-or-die best friend and producer. Loud laughs, big heart, bigger earrings.

Ty (30s): Dez's loyal, hilarious crew member. Demo king. Emotional support comic relief.

Miss Lorraine (70s): Community matriarch. Regal, nosy, wise. A one woman spiritual chorus.

TALENT SUGGESTIONS

Kendra: Teyonah Parris, Logan Browning, Dominique Thorne

Dez: Yahya Abdul-Mateen II, Kendrick Sampson, Trevante Rhodes

Marissa: Natasha Rothwell, Danielle Brooks, Ashley Blaine Featherson

Ty: LaKeith Stanfield, Melvin Gregg, Tone Bell

Miss Lorraine: Jenifer Lewis, Loretta Devine, Phylicia Rashad

CASTING MOCK-UP GRID (SUGGESTED HEADSHOTS)

DIRECTOR MATCH SUGGESTIONS

- Stella Meghie (The Photograph)
- Charles Stone III (Drumline, Uncle Drew)

- Tina Mabry (Queen Sugar)
 - Angel Kristi Williams (Really Love)
-

LOOKBOOK / MOOD REEL REFERENCES

- The Photograph (warm cinematography, adult Black romance)
 - Fixer Upper meets Homecoming (renovation realism + visual intimacy)
 - Queen Sugar (Black Southern aesthetic, legacy tension)
 - Soft natural lighting, warm wood, archival textures, vintage tones
-

MARKETING HOOKS & TAGLINES

- "You can renovate a house. Can you restore a love?"
 - "Some stories live in the walls. Others in the heart."
 - "This time, the foundation is personal."
-

TARGET AUDIENCE & MARKET

- Women 25–54 (Lifetime, OWN, Hallmark, BET+, Netflix audiences)
 - Black women looking for emotionally rich, culturally rooted love stories
 - Fans of home renovation shows, mature romantic drama, and Southern Black legacy
-

CORE AUDIENCE

- Black millennial and Gen X women
 - Southern culture lovers
 - Renovation/reclamation reality TV crossover fans
 - Streaming platform subscribers seeking feel-good realism with emotional stakes
-

WHY IT SELLS

- Emotional & visual dual appeal (love story + design)
 - Market-tested dynamics (exes reunite, buried secrets, home transformation)
 - Cultural commentary baked into structure (ownership, gentrification, authenticity)
 - High streaming trailer potential (porch kiss, basement reveal, banter)
-

COMPARABLE FILMS & SERIES

- The Photograph (Universal)
 - Sweet Magnolias (Netflix)
 - Queen Sugar (OWN)
 - Fixer to Fabulous / Home Town Takeover (HGTV/Discovery+)
-

PRODUCTION VALUE

- 1–2 primary locations (house, production trailer)
 - Moderate set builds (renovation realism with practical design changes)
 - Stylized B-roll, handheld moments, warm post-production tone
 - Built-in music/playlist synergy
-

STORY & HOOK – WHY THIS STORY MATTERS NOW

In an era where cultural preservation and content commodification are colliding, Flip Side of Love reminds us that stories, especially Black stories, aren't just told, they're inherited. This film honors that inheritance while showing that restoration isn't just physical. It's emotional. Personal. Necessary.

DEMOGRAPHICS

- 65% female viewers, 25–54 age range
 - Strong appeal to African American households, urban and Southern markets
 - Ideal for Lifetime, OWN, BET+, Hallmark Mahogany, Netflix, or Prime
-

MARKETABILITY

- Easily trailerized moments (crate discovery, romantic porch kiss, community event)
- Timely themes: truth in storytelling, legacy preservation, reality TV critique
- Social promo potential: interior design meets emotional redemption
- Perfect fit for streaming platforms seeking grounded, aspirational Black love stories

