

STANDBY

For Consideration: Lifetime, Tubi, TV One

Names below reflect casting type, tone, and audience fit only. No offers, holds, or conversations have taken place. All suggestions are for internal development purposes and are subject to availability, rights, and representation.

LEAD ROLES

CHLOE MARSH

27, female lead

Founder of StandBy. Sharp, controlled, funny without trying, the kind of woman who got so good at reading other people she stopped checking in on herself. Needs a lead who can play comedic command and real vulnerability in the same scene.

SUGGESTED Meagan Good • Christina Moses • Mekia Cox

BEN WHITFIELD

29, male lead

An architect hiding a career defining promotion behind an even bigger favor for his best friend. Warm, self deprecating, quietly ambitious, charm that reads as effortless because he has been performing it his whole life. Needs a leading man with real comedic timing and a believable landing into vulnerability.

SUGGESTED Tyler Lepley • Skyh Black • Terrence Jenkins

MARK

30, supporting lead

Ben's best friend since childhood, an accountant with a spine of steel at work and none of it left over for his own life. Anxious, precise, lovable, the emotional engine of the film's second romance.

SUGGESTED RonReaco Lee • Woody McClain • Sam Adegoke

SADIE OKAFOR

27, supporting lead

A litigator who is unshakeable in a courtroom and undone by a bread basket. Chloe's best friend and StandBy's most important client. Needs an actor who can flip between commanding and disarmed inside a single line.

SUGGESTED KJ Smith • Nadine Ellis • Reginae Carter

REGINA

58, Chloe's mother

A Buckhead wedding and floral institution who built an empire out of never looking too closely at her own life. Commanding, warm, sharp enough to see through her daughter from across a dinner table.

SUGGESTED Vivica A. Fox • Robin Givens • Lela Rochon • Tisha Campbell

WALTER

58, Ben's father

A contractor who rebuilt a small, honest business after losing a much bigger one. Steady, weathered, carries the film's whole theme in one scene at a folding table.

SUGGESTED Isaiah Washington • Dorian Missick • Boris Kodjoe

SUPPORTING ROLES

late 20s

Chloe's employee, turned cautionary tale, turned moral compass. Written as a breakout opportunity for a rising actor who can carry both comedy and a real fall from grace.

SUGGESTED Open to a rising or breakout actor

GREGORY VANCE

50s

Ben's firm principal. Calm authority with real disappointment underneath. A strong single or double scene role built for a recognizable character actor.

SUGGESTED Open, character actor lane

CASTING STRATEGY NOTE

All six lead roles are written open to any background. The names above lean toward performers with existing audience recognition across the Lifetime, Tubi, and TV One circuit, since crossover recognition strengthens the pitch to all three buyers at once. Regina is written with range on purpose: the role supports either a warm comedic register or a heavier dramatic one, depending on which buyer's notes carry the most weight in the room.
