

SNEAKERHEADS ANONYMOUS

Genre: Teen Hustle Comedy / Coming-of-Age

Format: Feature Film (90–100 mins)

Tone: Dope × Booksmart × Euphoria (with sneakers)

Created by: Kelly Tenney | NCCA Entertainment

Logline

When a sneaker-obsessed teen drains his college fund to cop a pair of ultra-rare Yeezys, he fakes a support group to throw off his suspicious parents, only for it to go viral and turn into a real movement. Now he's trapped between clout-chasing hustle and actually helping people... and his lies are catching up.

The Pitch

Sneakerheads Anonymous is a fast, funny, and heartfelt teen comedy set in Atlanta's resale culture. It blends Gen Z hustle, TikTok chaos, and emotional depth as one teen spirals from sneaker obsession into community leadership, by accident. With a whip-smart ensemble, bold visuals, and a built-in fanbase of sneakerheads, this is a social-media-fueled, streetwear-savvy story of growing up, falling down, and standing on your own two kicks.

Why It Sells

- Crossover Appeal: Combines youth mental health, hustle culture, and resale economy in one irresistible high-concept setup
 - Massive Audience: Sneaker resale is a $10B+ global industry; TikTok sneaker culture = millions of engaged fans
 - Fresh Voice, Authentic World: Grounded in Black Gen Z experience, Atlanta flavor, and real sneakerhead culture
 - Franchise Potential: Built for spinoffs, merch collabs, podcast extensions, and social-first marketing
