

ROMANTIC COMEDY / FEATURE FILM

The logline

A plus-one pact.
An ex’s wedding.
An unexpected yes.

To survive planning her ex-fiancé’s wedding and her family’s relentless matchmaking, a meticulous Chicago wedding planner signs a no-love pact with a commitment-averse designer.

As their fake dates become the best part of their lives, a dream job across the country threatens the partnership neither will admit they want.

The hook

She plans everyone’s happily ever after.
He leaves before his begins.

Seven rules and an expiration date let them perform a romance.
Remembered coffee orders and quiet Tuesdays make it real.

Her career breakthrough means planning her ex’s wedding.
A Mexican American family bakery gives the romance its heart.
Every broken rule reveals a deeper form of intimacy.

Tone & comparables

Playful. Tender. Emotionally grounded.

HOLIDATE

A social survival pact that becomes real romance.

SET IT UP

Workplace wit and affection revealed through everyday attention.

RYE LANE

A city with personality and neighborhood-rooted intimacy.

Chloe Martinez

30 / WEDDING PLANNER / PROTAGONIST

She can fix anything except the ending she never understood.

Personality

Precise, dryly funny, fiercely capable. Her backup plans have backup plans.

Goal & conflict

Earn her name on the company door. Learn to leave room for someone else’s answer.

Ben Carter

32 / GRAPHIC DESIGNER / ROMANTIC LEAD

He remembers everything.
He commits to very little.

OBSERVANT, INVENTIVE, DISARMINGLY FUNNY
He uses charm when honesty feels dangerous.

He wants a studio of his own. Chloe makes him feel at home.
To deserve that home, he must stop hiding difficult choices
and show up when he promises.

The people around them

MARISOL MARTINEZ
Bakery owner and mother. Sharp questions conceal tender concern.

GRANDMA ROSA
Quiet family authority. A crossed-out no can become a lifelong yes.

DAVID CHEN
Therapist roommate. Wants an honest answer and reliable rent.

DIANE WHITLOCK
Demanding boss. Must learn where the business ends.

NATE BISHOP
Former fiancé. His wedding forces an overdue reckoning.

WHITNEY HALE
Warmhearted bride. Her affection complicates Chloe’s assignment.

The story

ACT I / THE AGREEMENT

Chloe’s biggest account could make her partner, but the groom is her ex. She recruits Ben as her social shield and writes a contract that expires after the wedding.

ACT II / THE EXCEPTIONS

Family celebrations, a funeral, and quiet Tuesdays turn performance into care. As clients embrace their romance, Ben conceals a New York offer.

ACT III / THE ANSWER

Chloe earns partnership on her own terms, then discovers Ben’s packed boxes. An honest conversation leads them back to Sunday dinner and a shared future.

The visual world

Chicago river gold
Ivory peonies
Pilsen murals
Pink conchas
Winter blue
Pencil graphite
Conservatory glass
Deep red calendar ink

Luxury events begin with symmetry and controlled movement.

Family spaces feel warm, crowded, and lived in.

As Chloe opens up, compositions loosen and the distance between the leads closes.

MIDNIGHT NAVY
WARM IVORY
BAKERY PINK
CHAMPAGNE GOLD
DEEP RED

Casting wishlist

MELISSA BARRERA

CHLOE MARTINEZ

Precision, dry humor, guarded vulnerability.

CONSTANCE MARIE

MARISOL MARTINEZ

Maternal authority with warmth beneath it.

JEAN SMART

DIANE WHITLOCK

Commanding wit and hidden tenderness.

DYLAN O’BRIEN

BEN CARTER

Restless comic energy and emotional openness.

TONY REVOLORI

DAVID CHEN

Understated humor and a grounded presence.

ROSA: OPEN CASTING

GRANDMA ROSA

A bilingual veteran with quiet comic authority.

Illustrative wishlist. No talent attached. Availability and terms unconfirmed.

Why it works for Netflix

PROPOSED PLATFORM POSITIONING

Immediate premise

A wedding planner must plan her ex’s wedding while her own romance is a performance.

Recognizable genre appeal

Fake dating, opposites attracting, and a celebratory romantic payoff.

Distinctive world

Luxury Chicago events meet a Mexican American family bakery.

Promotional moments

Seven rules. A New Year’s kiss. Packed boxes. A Sunday reunion.

Emotional accessibility

Career ambition, family expectations, and fear of abandonment.

Creative positioning assessment. No platform commitment or audience-performance claim.

Materials & next steps

AVAILABLE

96-page second-draft screenplay
Draft-to-draft review and revision priorities
Pitch deck and project poster

SEEKING A PRODUCING PARTNER

Focused script polish, budget and production plan,
director and lead casting, financing and distribution discussions.

Kelly R. Tenney / NCCA Entertainment
NCCAENTERTAINMENT@gmail.com / 910.262.3456