
FORT SILENCE
THE TRUTH WAS CLASSIFIED AS GRIEF.
FEATURE FILM / MILITARY INVESTIGATIVE THRILLER

Logline

When a young soldier dies at Fort Stewart, CID agent Jordan Hayes finds the same hidden experiment that killed her father twenty years earlier. To expose it, she must defy the commander who raised her before another private becomes a closed case.

A death investigation becomes a daughter’s reckoning.

The hook

ONE CASE. TWO GENERATIONS. THE SAME BUILDING.

The woman who taught Jordan to seek the truth has spent twenty years hiding it.

A modern resilience program leaves a trail of exhausted soldiers and altered death reports. Every answer draws Jordan closer to the commander she calls family.

Tone and comparables

INVESTIGATIVE TENSION / INTIMATE BETRAYAL

Grounded. Unsettling. Emotionally direct.

The Report	The procedural pursuit of an institutional truth.
Dark Waters	One investigator follows a pattern others dismiss.
A Few Good Men	Military authority and moral responsibility collide.
The Night Of	The system shapes the facts people are allowed to believe.

Comparables describe tone and dramatic approach, not financial performance.

JORDAN HAYES

34 / CID SPECIAL AGENT

GOAL

Find out why Tyler Vogel died.

PRESSURE

Her credentials are suspended as fatigue erodes her certainty.

CHANGE

She stops counting closed files and starts protecting the people inside them.

COLONEL DIANE MERCER

58 / GARRISON COMMANDER

HER POWER

A beloved commander and Jordan’s surrogate mother.

HER NEED

Keep the resilience program alive and secure her promotion.

HER CONTRADICTION

She loves Jordan while using that bond to bury the truth.

The people who force the truth into daylight

CARLA RUIZ

A private who saw Tyler’s final walk and risks her future to testify.

DEL NAVARRO

Jordan’s boss must decide whether to trust her evidence after pulling her badge.

ISAIAH BROOKS

A drill sergeant whose warning was filed away and whose guilt dates back twenty years.

ALAN PRUITT

Meridian’s scientist sees soldiers as data and defends the program’s results.

DONNA VOGEL

Tyler’s mother refuses to let the Army close his life as a line in a report.

DEVONTE PRICE

A records specialist risks his career to preserve the raw data.

Story

THREE ACTS

I THE DEATH

Jordan investigates Tyler Vogel’s apparent suicide. Matching wrist burns and three earlier deaths point to a covert program in Building 1147.

II THE FAMILY LIE

An archived report reveals her father died in the same building. Mercer moves to discredit Jordan, while a frightened witness disappears into behavioral health custody.

III THE RECORD

Jordan, Brooks, Price, and Carla assemble independent evidence. At a public hearing, Jordan confronts Mercer and forces the Army to face the deaths it hid.

Visual language

RAIN ON CONCRETE

FILED SILENCE

COMMAND AND CARE

Blue-black nights, institutional olive, worn paper, and the red glow of Building 1147. Close observation carries the suspense.

Casting wishlist

SUGGESTED CONVERSATIONS / NO ATTACHMENTS

JORDAN HAYES

Dominique Fishback

or Kiki Layne

DIANE MERCER

Robin Wright

or Laura Linney

ISAIAH BROOKS

Sterling K. Brown

or Colman Domingo

CARLA RUIZ

Xochitl Gomez

or Isabela Merced

The roles call for a precise investigative lead, a formidable maternal antagonist, and supporting players who make the cost of speaking tangible.

Audience and platform fit

PREMIUM STREAMING OR SPECIALTY FEATURE

A sharp premise	A death on an Army post exposes a program with a twenty-year history.
Two major roles	Jordan and Mercer drive the thriller and its emotional stakes.
Contained production	The post, motel, records room, warehouse, and hearing anchor the story.
Trailer moments	The matching wrist burns, father’s file, witness removal, and public confrontation.
Conversation after the credits	Loyalty, duty, and institutional accountability remain in tension.
