

MISS JUNETEENTH BLUES

Format: 90-Minute Movie of the Week (Lifetime / BET+ / OWN)

Genre: Southern Comedy-Drama / Empowerment / Family

Tone: Little Miss Sunshine meets Eve's Bayou with the cultural pride of Dumplin' and the Southern sparkle of Beauty Shop

Tagline: She wore the crown once. Now she's coming for the throne.

LOGLINE

When her rebellious teenage daughter earns a coveted spot in the prestigious Miss Juneteenth pageant, a down-on-her-luck former queen fakes her age to re-enter the competition, only to uncover a corrupt system built on legacy, lies, and exclusion. As mother and daughter clash and compete, a viral scandal ignites, turning a personal comeback into a movement that redefines what it means to be a queen.

WHY IT STANDS OUT

- Emotionally Rich: Explores legacy, womanhood, and healing through a generational lens.
 - Comedic + Viral Moments: A wig flies, a truth bomb drops, and a crowd roars, built-in breakout scenes made for social media.
 - Fresh Yet Familiar: Combines Southern Black culture, mother-daughter dynamics, and pageant satire with authentic emotional beats.
 - Empowerment Forward: Celebrates natural beauty, sisterhood, and second chances with resonance across ages and demographics.
-

THE CASTABLE ENSEMBLE

- Toni Dupree (49): Former queen turned nail salon owner. Think Taraji P. Henson meets Regina Hall.
 - Amara Dupree (16): Toni's outspoken, poetic daughter, Gen Z firebrand.
 - Darnell Dupree (52): Toni's ex-husband, a jazz musician with unfinished business.
 - Corinne Whitmore (50): Toni's lifelong rival and corrupt pageant director.
 - The Sisterhood: A vibrant trio of second-chance contestants with secrets and sass, comic relief, heart, and heat.
-

WHY IT WORKS FOR CABLE NETWORKS

- High emotional stakes tied to Black motherhood and legacy
 - Uplifting, hilarious, and deeply resonant
 - Southern flavor + cultural specificity
 - A built-in audience around Juneteenth and pageant nostalgia
 - Offers both comedy and catharsis for multi-gen viewers
-

DEVELOPMENT STATUS

- Full script in final revision (expanding to 90–100 pages)
 - Visual pitch deck, mood board, and hero poster ready
 - Casting wishlist and lookbook mockups in progress
-